Afghanistan's front lines in combat against Northern Alliance and US and Coalition forces.¹ Detainee possibly served as an interrogator for al-Qaida and Taliban forces. Detainee admitted he received militant training at the al-Faruq Training Camp on the AK-47 assault rifle, Beka machine guns, and mortars. Detainee is a veteran militant with combat experience dating back to the 1980s, when he fought Soviet occupation forces in Afghanistan. Detainee has resisted cooperation with interrogators and remains largely unexploited. He has coached other JTF-GTMO detainees to use resistance techniques while in US custody. JTF-GTMO determined this detainee to be:

- A HIGH risk, as he is likely to pose a threat to the US, its interests, and allies
- A LOW threat from a detention perspective
- Of HIGH intelligence value

c. (S//NF) Summary of Changes: The following outlines changes to detainee's assessment since the last JTF-GTMO recommendation. (Changes in this assessment will be annotated by ➤ next to the footnote.)

- Incorporated additional reporting that detainee possibly participated in interrogations of al-Qaida prisoners suspected of spying on al-Qaida and the Taliban.
- Additional capture reporting and information
- Added reporting in evaluation of detainee which refutes his cover story

4. (U) Detainee's Account of Events:

The following section is based, unless otherwise indicated, on detainee's own account. These statements are included without consideration of veracity, accuracy, or reliability.

a. (S//NF) Prior History: Detainee has provided varying accounts of when and where he was born. He initially claimed to be Yemeni, but later admitted he was born in Port Sudan.² Detainee taught the Koran to children at the Dar al-Ilm District School in Port Sudan. Detainee worked in a textile factory as a laborer and eventually was in charge of one of its departments. Detainee stated he traveled to Afghanistan more than once and was there during the jihad against the Soviet occupation.³

¹ Analyst Note: The 55th Arab Brigade served as UBL's primary battle formation supporting Taliban objectives, with UBL participating closely in the command and control of the brigade. Nashwan Abd al-Razzaq Abd al-Baqi, aka (Abd al-Hadi al-Iraqi), ISN US9IZ-010026DP (IZ-10026), had primary operational command of the 55th Arab Brigade, serving as UBL's military commander in the field.

² IIR 6 034 0856 02, 000036 302 01-JUN-2002, 000036 SIR 26-MAY-2004, Analyst Note: Detainee's age is not certain. Most recently, in 2004, he claimed to be 45 years old, but has provided conflicting information regarding his country and city of origin. Detainee is generally referred to as al-Sudani, denoting his Sudanese origin. In TD-314/37242-02, detainee claimed he was born in Umdarmnah, SU, in 1962. In IIR 4 201 4181 05, detainee claimed he was born in Sharj Ba Salim, a village in Hadramawt, Yemen (YM). In IIR 4 201 4253 05, detainee claimed he spoke with the Yemeni delegation on 21 May 2002 and admitted that he was from Khartoum, SU.

b. (S//NF) Recruitment and Travel: Detainee reported the reason for his last trip to Afghanistan was to teach the Koran to children. Detainee traveled from Sudan to Karachi, Pakistan (PK), via Qatar Airlines. He traveled to Quetta, PK and then made his way to Kandahar, AF.⁴

c. (S//NF) Training and Activities: Upon arrival in Kandahar, detainee spent five days in a government guesthouse. Detainee then attended the al-Faruq Training Camp where he received militant training on the AK-47 assault rifle, Beka machine guns, and mortars.⁵ In addition to being a trainee, detainee also admitted being the clinical doctor at the camp. After six months of living in a house next to the training camp mosque, detainee learned fighting was taking place near Bagram, so he traveled there and spent almost two years fighting with the Taliban against the Northern Alliance. During that time, detainee confirmed he killed members of the Northern Alliance in battle while attacking or being attacked. Detainee stated he was in Bagram when the US started bombing Afghanistan. Due to the severity of the bombing, detainee fled to Pakistan.⁶

5. (U) Capture Information:

a. (S//NF) Detainee was captured by Pakistani forces on 15 December while attempting to cross the Afghanistan-Pakistan border near Parachinar, PK after fleeing to the Tora Bora Mountains. Detainee was captured with a group of 31 other Arab al-Qaida fighters referred to by US intelligence reporting as the Dirty 30. Most of the Dirty 30 are assessed to be UBL bodyguards and other members of UBL's security detail.⁷ Pakistani authorities transferred the group to a prison facility in Peshawar, PK where they were held for 15 days.⁸ On 26 December 2001, Pakistani authorities transferred detainee from Peshawar to US custody at the Kandahar Detention Facility.⁹

b. (S) Property Held: None

c. (S) Transferred to JTF-GTMO: 11 January 2002

d. (S//NF) Reasons for Transfer to JTF-GTMO: Detainee's file does not indicate why he was sent to JTF-GTMO.

6. (S//NF) Evaluation of Detainee's Account: Detainee's story about traveling to Afghanistan to teach the Koran to children is not credible. Detainee was taken into Pakistani custody with a group of 31 Arabs who had escaped together from UBL's Tora Bora Mountain Complex including Muhammad Yahya Muhsin al-Zaylai, ISN US9SA-000055DP (SA-055, transferred) and Majid Mahmud Abdu Ahmad, ISN US9YM-000041DP (YM-041). According to SA-055, the Pakistani warden of the prison informed the group that the best thing they could tell US forces when they were interrogated was they were in Afghanistan to teach the Koran and for religious studies.¹⁰ YM-041 added the Koran-teaching cover story was false.¹¹ Multiple reports from known al-Qaida members have identified detainee as an al-Qaida member, a veteran jihadist, and the al-Faruq Training Camp doctor. Detainee initially denied participating in the Soviet Jihad and receiving training at the al-Faruq Training Camp. He has since acknowledged his militant training, though he has not provided any further details and has admitted he fought on the front lines against the Northern Alliance. Detainee acknowledged he was on the front lines when the US bombing campaign began and evacuated the battlefield shortly afterward. However, he has not acknowledged having traveled to UBL's Tora Bora Mountain Complex. Detainee has employed multiple counter-interrogation techniques, to include non-response and feigning illness. Detainee has provided almost no information about his al-Qaida-related activities prior to 1999.

7. (U) Detainee Threat:

a. (S) Assessment: Detainee is assessed to be a HIGH risk, as he is likely to pose a threat to the US, its interests, and allies.

b. (S//NF) Reasons for Continued Detention: Detainee is a veteran member of al-Qaida who swore bayat to, and worked in Sudan as an international courier for, UBL. Detainee served as the camp doctor at the al-Faruq Training Camp and served as both a fighter and doctor on the front lines as a member of the 55th Arab Brigade at Kabul, Bagram, and UBL's Tora Bora Mountain Complex. Detainee possibly served as an interrogator for al-Qaida and Taliban forces. Detainee received militant training at the al-Faruq Training Camp and possesses combat experience dating back to the 1980s, when he fought the Soviet occupation forces in Afghanistan. Detainee has resisted cooperation with interrogators and remains largely unexploited. He has coached other JTF-GTMO detainees to use resistance techniques while in US custody.

- (S//NF) Detainee began his affiliation with al-Qaida elements in Afghanistan in 1988 and became a member of al-Qaida in 1994 in Khartoum when he swore bayat to UBL. At that time detainee became an international courier for UBL.
 - (S//NF) Muhammad Sulayman Nalfi, aka (Abu Musab al-Sudani) photo-identified detainee as Abu Hamza al-Sudani. Nalfi stated detainee trained at an al-Qaida camp in Afghanistan in mid-1988 and became a member of al-Qaida in 1994 when he swore bayat to UBL. Nalfi traveled to Afghanistan with detainee in 1988 to fight the Soviet occupation forces.¹²
 - (U) FBI source NY-29884-CW-C, a cooperative witness of proven credibility who testified in the East Africa Embassy bombings trials, stated Abu Hamza al-Sudani (detainee) was a fighter in Afghanistan and eventually joined al-Qaida.¹³
 - (U) The source added Nalfi recruited Abu Hamza al-Sudani into al-Qaida. When al-Qaida relocated to Sudan, detainee became a messenger for UBL taking messages back and forth between Khartoum, SU; Mecca, Saudi Arabia (SA); and Jeddah, SA. Abu Hamza al-Sudani told the source that the 1995 bombing of the National Guard facility in Saudi Arabia, where several US soldiers were killed, was committed by al-Qaida.¹⁴
 - (U) NY-32549-CW, another detainee held in New York for undisclosed reasons, photo-identified detainee stating detainee became an al-Qaida member sometime prior to 1995. This source stated he frequently saw detainee at the al-Qaida guesthouse in Khartoum during the years UBL and numerous al-Qaida operatives were based in that city.¹⁵
 - (U) Detainee acknowledged seeing UBL during UBL's visits to the al-Faruq Training Camp on one or two occasions. Detainee stated he spoke to UBL and shook UBL's hand inside the clinic. Detainee admitted the al-Faruq Training Camp belonged to UBL, but claimed the camp was run by the Taliban.¹⁶
- (S//NF) Detainee served as the camp doctor at the al-Faruq Training Camp and fought and served as a 55th Arab Brigade fighter and doctor on the front lines at Kabul, Bagram and UBL's Tora Bora Mountain Complex.
 - (U) Detainee admitted he fought on the front lines at Bagram from late 1999 to 2001 and he evacuated after commencement of the US bombing campaign. During part or all of this time, detainee stayed in a guest house in Bagram run by IZ-10026, the commander of the 55th Arab Brigade.¹⁷ Detainee was captured at the Pakistani SY-489 claims Arkan Muhammad Ghafil al-Karim, ISN US9IZ-000653DP, (IZ-653) was also interrogated by detainee. SY-489 stated detainee is trying to pass himself off as a Yemeni when in fact he is Sudanese.³⁰ (Analyst Note: SY-489 spent two years in al-Qaida and Taliban controlled detention facilities under suspicion of spying against al-Qaida on behalf of Western intelligence services.)

stating “they have all the information they need on you so don’t elaborate any more on your story.”⁴⁰

c. (S//NF) Detainee’s Conduct: Detainee is assessed as a LOW threat from a detention perspective. His overall behavior has been compliant and non-hostile towards the guard force and staff. He currently has nine Reports of Disciplinary Infraction listed in DIMS with the most recent occurring on 8 January 2007, when he was in possession of contraband. He has no Reports of Disciplinary Infraction for assault. Other incidents for which he has been disciplined include inciting and participating in mass disturbances, failure to follow guard instructions/camp rules, and possession of food and non-weapon type contraband. In 2007, he had one Report of Disciplinary Infraction and none so far in 2008.

8. (U) Detainee Intelligence Value Assessment:

a. (S) Assessment: Detainee is assessed to be of HIGH intelligence value. Detainee’s most recent interrogation session occurred on 16 January 2008.

b. (S//NF) Placement and Access: Detainee is a long-time al-Qaida member who is well known among Arab fighters in Afghanistan for his mujahideen exploits during the Soviet occupation of Afghanistan in the 1980s and from the early days of al-Qaida in Afghanistan and Sudan. Detainee probably met with and swore bayat to UBL while he worked as a courier for him in Sudan in 1994. He also had relationships with other high-level al-Qaida members in Sudan, Afghanistan, and elsewhere. In particular, detainee was a close friend of IZ-10026. Detainee admitted fighting on the front at Bagram for two years and was an established individual at the al-Faruq Training Camp. Other sources have placed detainee on the front lines at Kabul, probably prior to his arrival on the Bagram lines in 1999. Detainee was placed at UBL’s Tora Bora Mountain Complex with UBL and other al-Qaida members in late 2001, and evacuated UBL’s Tora Bora Mountain Complex with other al-Qaida fighters and UBL bodyguards. Detainee was identified as an associate of al-Qaida counterintelligence chief Sayf al-Adil, and possibly participated in the interrogations of prisoners suspected of espionage against al-Qaida.

c. (S//NF) Intelligence Assessment: Detainee probably has knowledge of the al-Qaida network, members, and activities dating back to its founding, and can probably provide information about other JTF-GTMO detainees involved with al-Qaida. Detainee has knowledge of al-Qaida operations in Sudan, East Africa, the Arabian Peninsula, and Afghanistan. As a former member of the al-Faruq Training Camp staff, detainee has knowledge of the workings of the camp, the other staff members, students who trained there, and the role of the camp in the recruitment, training, vetting, and deployment pipeline for foreign fighters going to the front lines in Afghanistan. Detainee probably can provide useful intelligence about IZ-10026, and may have information about Sayf al-Adil, who remains at large. Considering the identification of detainee by KU-10024, GZ-10016, TZ-10012, LY-10017, and Abu Yasir al-Jazairi, detainee probably has knowledge of these and other senior al-Qaida operatives. Detainee remains largely unexploited and continues to use resistance techniques to deny information to interrogators.

d. (S//NF) Areas of Potential Exploitation:

- Al-Qaida leaders, operatives, activities, and planning from the 1980s through 2001
- Biographical information, terrorist group affiliation, and activities of other JTF-GTMO detainees
- Al-Qaida connections to other extremist organizations in Africa
- Soviet POW-MIAs from the Afghanistan war
- Radicalization factors of terrorism
- Terrorist travel facilitators
- Terrorist biographical and psychological information

9. (S) EC Status: Detainee's enemy combatant status was reassessed on 3 November 2004, and he remains an enemy combatant.
